Inwg. D. no 124 of 1907 is put up.

The Dy. Secretary Mr A Subrahmanya Iyer's note (vide pages 4 to 6 of the office note) clearly explains the facts of the case.

Mr. Alasingachar petitioned Govt. in February 1908 advancing his hereditary right to the mudre uliga post of Sri Narayana Swami temple at Melkote, as being the eldest son of the previous karanikam Komar Singlachar the Dy Commissioner, Mysore District, submitted as called for by this office, a report on the petition together with the connected records. The 1st member heard the aplt and his opponent (the present office-holder) Vidwan Lakshmi Narachar (who is the daughter's son of Komara Singlachar). Mr. Alasingachar's appeal was rejected as Govt saw no reason to interfere on behalf of the aplt. (Vide Govt Pro no. 451 Dy 15th August 1910).

On December 1910, Mr. Alasingachar presented a review petition, and this was rejected in Endorsement no 1673 Dy 23rd Decr 1910 issued to him-

Mr. Alasingacharlu presented a second review petition to the late Dewan stating that the post is hereditary in his family as is evidenced by old orders and other papers with him and praying that he ~~has~~ must be registered as the karanavaru in place of his nephew Lakshmi Narasimhachar - the grounds for review are summarized in English in para 4 of the petition.

The Govt order says that "the apltt's father had resigned his right without any qualification ...", but the Mr Alasingacharlu says that there was no resignation. He states that the karar of 1888 executed by his maternal uncle — Sampathkumaracher to his father shows the relation of Principal & Agent, that the office and how to discharge it were exclusively in the hands of his late father during his life-time under the Sanad which gave no power to alienate it, and that there was no identity of interest between him and his late father for the right of survivorship could not be exercise

The late Dewan to whom the papers had been submitted in June 1912 raised some queries, and directed the submission of the file through the 1st Councillor.

In a Kannada memo in the Vernacular records, mention is made of the Razinama of 1863. Komara Singlar petitioned the authorities stating that he had to leave Melkote on account of domestic affairs, and praying that the post might be transferred to the name of his brother-in-law Tonnur Sampath Kumarachar. - It is said that under Hassan Division Huzur Hukum no. 57 Dy 29th May 1863, the name of K. The thought of certain allegations have often been made since the late Sheveroy the case was reopened, and a further report called for from the Collector.

The whole case now hinges upon the fact whether or not the resignation in 1863 of Kumar Singh Sahib was an absolute one. The available records seem to show that it was, in as much as Singh Sahib's name never once figures in the temple Baramahal since then. Even the letters after Kaifiat of 1888 would appear to show that whatever the private understanding between the parties may have been, the transfer of Baramahal so far as Govt are concerned, was without any reserve.

The next question noted after late Sheveroy is 'what is the significance after Kaifiat of 1888 and what is its legal effect'. Looking at all the circumstances, it seems that only an undertaking on the part of Sampat Kumaraswamy to retain for the Baramahal and so far as ~~[illegible]~~ the Govt is concerned, it cannot have the effect of retaining for ever, to

The humble petition of M.C.Malsiger[illegible], ryot, re- Mudre Ulaga Office in Sree Narayanaswamy Temple, Melkote,

May it please your Honr

1. That, in the Triple Revision Register of 1906, the Office bears No. 34 and adjusts at the rate of the following Government Order.

[illegible]

2. That Komara Singlachar owned and possessed the said property father who died in 1907, at Melkote; and Narsimha Char is his sister's son or nephew, [illegible] Office by giving false information to Government.

3. That to make the above Government order accord [illegible] That and Law, the only correction to be made in it, is for " Lakshmikantacharlu".

— read " Narsingacharlu"

The copy is respectfully submitted.

4. That the Government Order of 1912 is wrong for the reasons given above.

(a). It is not proper for Government to go behind its own order of 1900.

(b). There was no resignation.

(c). The Karar, dated 31st May 1888, executed by his maternal uncle to his father shews the relation of Principal and Agent, which existed between them.

(d). The Office and how to discharge it were exclusive-ly in the hands of his late father during his life-time under the Sanad, which gives no power to alienate it.

(e). There was no identity, but diversity, of interest between him and his late father for the right of survivorship could not be exercised simultaneously.

The petitioner therefore prays that his name may be substituted for that of his nephew in the Govern-ment Order of 1900, so as to make it harmonize with the Sanad kindly granted by Chikka Devaraja Wodayar in the 17th. Century, confirmed by his successors as well as by Hyder and Tippu in the 18th Century and ratified by the Parakala Matt and the Chief Commissioner in the 19th Century: and that justice and peace may thereby be given to all concerned.

Appellant's father resigned his office, but later, [illegible] applied for restoration on the ground that [illegible] had obtained his resignation.

2. The case was heard before [illegible] on 15th June 1910, when the petitioner appeared in person and counsel [illegible] appeared for the respondent.

Petitioner urged that [illegible] his father's resignation was obtained by misrepresentation and that he was entitled to be restored to the office by making a misrepresentation.

For the respondent it was urged that [illegible] father had lost their right [illegible] and that [illegible] declined it in favour of [illegible] dispensed with [illegible] and appointed [illegible] in his place as a permanent [illegible] relationship between him and the original [illegible] other being mentioned only as an incidental fact. It was also urged that in 1897, the petitioner, his brothers and [illegible] acquiesced to the respondent's appointment.

Decision

The appellant's father had resigned his right of [illegible] qualification long before Government appointed the respondent, and the appellant himself showed by his long delay in asking for restoration that he acquiesced in the exclusion. It was [illegible] that his father was alive till 1907, [illegible] there was no disparity of interest between them. Government see no reason to interfere on behalf of the appellant. The appeal is accordingly dismissed.
